DECENT GIRL LOCKED IN BEDROOM OF RESORT WITH REV. WILLIAMS' INVESTIGATORS

*Married Men Endanger Young Girl's Good Name by Taking Her to Notorious Erie Hotel—Judge
Bitterly Scores Method Used.*

The method used by the Rev. Elmer L. Williams to obtain evidence against disorderly hotels in his district were scored bitterly by Judge Hopkins in the Morals Court today.

Two of Williams' "investigators," both married men, admitted in court that they, separately, had taken an innocent girl to a disorderly house, had each registered there with the girl as man and wife and had each stayed in a locked room with the girl for half an hour.

The girl used by the investigators is only twenty-two years old.

Another of Williams' "investigators" admitted that before the married "investigators" had secured their "clinching" testimony against the hotel by using an innocent girl, he had seen women openly soliciting men in front of the hotel and taking men into the hotel.

Judge Hopkins called Williams before the bench.

"I think the method used to obtain evidence in this case outrageous," he said. "According to one of your in-
